THANK YOU FOR JOINING THE NHS BIG TEA. YOUR OUTPOURING OF GRATITUDE AND GENEROSITY WILL MEAN THE WORLD.

Dear <Mrs Sample>

In a year like no other, everybody has their own reason for saying thanks to our NHS heroes. We clapped loudly on our doorsteps. Placed rainbows in our windows. But we're not stopping there. On July 5th, the NHS's birthday, we'll be coming together for the NHS Big Tea. And I wanted to say a huge THANK YOU for hosting.

FROM LOVE TO LAUGHTER, RELIEF TO REFLECTION, GET READY FOR A UNIQUE NATIONAL OUTPOURING OF THANKS.

On 5th July at 3pm (or whenever works for you) we want you to raise a cuppa to help support hardworking NHS staff. You can pop the kettle on at home. Share a pot of tea with your colleagues. Take a flask outside with friends and family. Or rally the whole street with brews, biscuits and bunting. Large or small, your outpouring of love will help care for those who cared for us.

EVERY TEA, EVERY PENNY AND EVERY POUND COULD HELP SUPPORT OUR WONDERFUL NHS STAFF.

Every penny raised could champion wellbeing, respite, counselling and more for our NHS heroes. This could be someone to talk to after a difficult shift, or a calm space to take off PPE and take five. Our NHS champions have never needed our support more. So let's get this NHS Big Tea brewing. Read through your pack, then let all your ideas pour out. Maybe even ask a few friends to help out. Together let's say the biggest, warmest thank you.

With big thanks to you.

Ellie,
Head Pourer, NHS Charities Together

PS. Remember to enjoy every cuppa safely by following the latest Covid-19 guidance.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS. WHAT AN OUTPOURING OF LOVE CAN DO FOR OUR NHS HEROES.

"It has been so traumatic seeing patients isolated from loved ones during the pandemic. We were able to fund devices that enabled patients to see their loved ones, which made all the difference to them at that difficult moment."

Kate Sinclair, Staff Nurse, ICU at Wrexham Maelor Hospital

"Doctors and nurses have been stretched to breaking point. The wellbeing and support service for staff has enabled clinicians to be looked after and we have all benefitted from that."

Dr Dan Menzies, Physician at Glan Clwyd Hospital

"Saving someone's life is the best feeling in the world. I am part of an amazing team and I put the people I work with on a pedestal – they are my heroes."

Nick Huby, CFR, Yorkshire Ambulance Service
